

Eric Morehead is Senior Compliance Counsel for Advisory Services for Corpedia Corporation. Eric works with Advisory Service's clients to build and enhance their compliance programs. This work includes compliance program creation and assessment. In addition, Eric serves as a Director of the Ethisphere Council, an exclusive executive group of corporate leaders and practitioners committed to ethics and compliance in business.

Prior to joining Corpedia, Eric was an Assistant General Counsel with the United States Sentencing Commission in Washington, DC. In this position, he was responsible for assisting members of the Commission by researching, developing and drafting amendments of the U.S. Federal Sentencing Guidelines, with a particular focus on the Organizational Sentencing Guidelines. In this role he chaired the policy team that revised and strengthened organizational ethics and compliance best practices. Previous to his role with the Commission, Eric was a litigation associate at Hinton, Sussman, Bailey & Davidson in Houston, Texas where he focused on white-collar practice, representing clients before various federal and state regulatory agencies and as counsel in criminal matters.

Mr. Morehead received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Baylor University and a Juris Doctorate from South Texas College of Law.

